A MUSIC IN THE PARK EVENT

CLASSICAL GUITAR MUSIC FROM AROUND THE WORLD WITH EDWIN CULVER

By: Rita Lopienski

What makes music so universal? Are the rules of music really so different around the world? Or is there something that music tries to say about all of us...

Come and hear the racing dance rhythms of Argentinian tangos, the interweaving lines of a great Baroque sonata nearly lost in the bombing of Dresden, a Russian tone-painting inspired by the nuclear mysticism of Salvador Dali, brand new music composed by Edwin Culver himself (just by remixing the street sounds of modern China), and much, much more!

Who knows, perhaps you'll discover a part of the world you never knew existed, or maybe even something about YOURSELF that's been awakened by this Classical Guitar Music From Around The World.

Join us at the RWA Community Center on October 13th, at 4:30 pm (indoors) for this enlightening event!

Jerry R Eldred

My wife Barbara, and I moved to Rotonda West 10 years ago. We picked this area for its attractiveness, limited traffic and very low crime rate. We are permanent year-round residents we love our place in paradise. Barb and I are blessed with a blended family of seven adult children and six grandchildren.

If elected this will be my final term, I have served one three year term and a vacated one year term, this will be my last term ,you can contact me at jreldred1449@gmail.com, 9376201865 or visit my website at Jerry Eldred RWA Board Member, I encourage you to sign up.

As for my background I grew up in a small rural town in Northcentral Pennsylvania. After high school graduation I attended Corning Community College in Corning NY and entered the United States Air force in 1970. Receiving an honorable discharge.

I decided to become active in our community when I began learning about taxes being levied on residents living in Rotonda West through the county MSBU District, I firmly believe that our tax dollars are to be spent wisely on projects that will benefit the entire community. I understood the need of improving our roads, drains and Our boulevard sidewalks are paid by Gas Tax funds. I promised to be open and work for the community and I will continue to do so. I want to be pro active when it comes to fines in our community, reducing the types of fines and amounts. I have no hidden agenda; I want to help ensure the quality of life in our community. Sometimes as a board member you have to make difficult the community and I will continue to do so. Education

Masters in Arts: Public Administration, Akron University

Bachelor of Arts in Parks and Natural Resources Management, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas.

EXPERIENCE

Executive Director Miami County Park District, Miami County Ohio, Retired (Jan. 1991-2012)

The position I retired from and loved the most was the Miami County Park District. I feel humbled that I was able to work for a governmental agency that was recognized nationwide as being unique. As a Park District in Ohio, we were created by the State Legislator in 1917, our Ohio residents may be familiar with Metro Parks found around the state. The Miami County Park District and all Metro parks are each governed by their own three-member Board of Park Commissioners In order to be a successful Park District in Ohio you must gain voter approval by passing property tax mileage levies. We successfully passed three voter approved levies, during my 20+ years. When I left the district had 13 parks and 2,500 acres, we started with 3 parks and 600 acres. The districts primary mission is natural resource management.

In 2008 we bought a second home in South Gulf Cove and were snowbirds for eight years. After retiring in 2016 we sold our NJ house and decided to live in a mandatory HOA community. ROTONDA LECTURER & AUTHOR, DR. FRANK LEVIN RELEASES NEW BOOK

BY: NADINE CLOUGH

It has been a few years since Dr. Frank Levin gave a lecture at Rotonda Community Center, but the 92 year-old former Brown University physics professor has been busy. He has recently released a new book, The Impossible Behavior of Light. It is based on his 90-minute lectures delivered at the RW Community Center. He states that it is short, with many diagrams and tables, and that it was published by Amazon.

Dr. Levin's lectures series included: Symmetry in Nature-Art and the Laws of Nature; Atoms are Real, Aren't They?; The Most Important Minus Sign in the Universe; Global Warming— Truth & Consequences; and The Impossible Behavior of Light. The lectures reflected Dr. Levin's love of the science of physics and the importance of life-long learning. For those people who faithfully attended his lectures, our minds were indeed stretched by his analytical scientific explanations on the topics covered.

His resume is impressive. He has worked on several postdoctoral scientific research projects, has been a visiting professor all over the world, has chaired various scientific groups, and has written three popular science books. Now, The Impossible Behavior of Light, is added to the list.

STATUE OF LIBERTY COMES TO ROTONDA WEST

By. Sam Besase

This Statue of Liberty is soon to be located at the new Liberty Island in Rotonda West, Florida – near the Gazebo that is located at approximately 108 Boundary Boulevard. Thanks to residents Todd Talley and Phyliss Stewart who live on Medalist Court, for the recent donation of this beautiful 8-foot-tall Statue of Liberty. As the picture shows, this Statue of Liberty stood in the front courtyard of the Crescent Hotel in Eureka Springs, Arkansas hotel for well over 100 years.

The Crescent Hotel became known as one of the most haunted places in the United States, thanks to Norman Baker. The man purchased the building in 1937 and decided to open a hospital and health spa for cancer patients. He was a charlatan and had no medical education but managed to attract dozens of patients over the course of about 10 years by advertising miraculous treatments. He eventually was jailed for fraud.

The Crescent Hotel is known as the most haunted hotel in the United States, and there have been several reports of paranormal activities in the building. People often say they see ghosts of doctors, nurses, patients, and even pets. The most haunted spot is Room 218, the same place that the stonemason building the hotel fell to death thus resulting in the first of many deaths at this hotel.

This lithograph painting shall be placed in the RWA Community Center along with this brief history related to this Statue of Liberty and the Crescent Hotel.

The view is looking at the main entrance to the Crescent Hotel, circa 1926, almost 100 years ago in Eureka Springs, AR. The Statue of Liberty and the Crescent Hotel were both constructed in 1886, about 140 years ago.

DIET IS A POWERFUL ANTI-AGING TOOL

A Health & Wellness Presentation

Article and Photo by: Connie Smith

If you want to live longer, pay attention to your dinner plate, because you “can’t out-exercise a bad diet,” says Diane Casey. The licensed dietitian, nutritionist and health coach discussed “Eating for Longevity” before a large crowd, September 25, at the Rotonda Community Center.

Based upon the whole-food plant-based diet advocacy of Michael Gregor, M.D. FACLM, author of, “How Not to Age,” Casey discussed the eight anti-aging principles of food consumption:

1. Nuts

- Although walnuts are king, include almonds, cashews, peanuts, hazelnuts and Brazil nuts daily.
- Because nuts are high in calories and fat, watch your portion size, limit servings to 10 walnut halves, 13 cashews, 17 almonds and 25 peanuts. Never eat more than one cup of nuts per day due to oxalate content and potential for kidney stone formation.

2. Greens

- Leafy greens, including spinach, kale, arugula, beet and mustard greens, chard and cruciferous vegetables (broccoli, cabbage, bok choy, brussels sprouts, add fiber, phytonutrients and antioxidants which decrease inflammation.
- The nitrates in these foods, dilate blood vessels and thereby lowering blood pressure.

3. Berries

- The nutrients in these berries help to improve memory and slow cognitive decline, repair DNA damage, provide vascular benefits, defend against cancer, improve insulin sensitivity.

4. Probiotics & Postbiotics

- Probiotics are fibers found in beans and lentils or intact grains like oats and barley. These fibers we ingest feed the good bacteria in our gut.
- Postbiotics enhancers are fermented foods (kimchi, sauerkraut, miso, tempeh, kombucha, plant-based kefir); they reduce inflammation, strengthen gut barrier, improve insulin sensitivity, support immune regulation.
- Both prevent color cancer.

5. Caloric Restriction

- A whole-food, plant-based diet is naturally low calorie and nutrient rich.
- Reducing your daily intake by as little as 300 calories between meals can put you on the road to lowering inflammation and slowing down metabolic pathways relating to aging. Aging adults should also consider restricting protein to 54 to 68 g. per day for a 150 lb. person. Animal protein spikes IGF far greater than plant protein.

Continued...

6. Protein Restriction (especially animal protein)

- Reduce animal protein to less than 4 oz. a day or eliminate; Beans, lentils, tofu or tempeh for balanced plant protein; prioritize legumes over protein powders.
- Excess protein (especially animal protein) accelerates aging; animal protein spikes IGF-1, plant protein does not.

7. Xenohormesis (plant stress compounds)

- Colorful, bitter or pungent foods are richest in polyphenols, such as spices, herbs, teas, dark berries, coca and crucifers; when we eat them, they strengthen our resilience.
- Examples are grape skins and peanuts (resveratrol), apples and onions (quercetin), turmeric (curcumin), green tea (catechins) and broccoli sprouts (sulforaphane).

8. NAD+

- NAD is an important component found in every cell in the body. By middle age, the amount is reduced by as much as 50%. NAD can be boosted naturally with exercise, telework restriction, fasting and a plant-based diet.

Casey counseled those in attendance, “eat whole foods. Eat in response to hunger. Move your body. Prioritize deep sleep. It’s so important as we age. Diet is so most powerful. It’s never too late. You can see an improvement in as little as two weeks. There’s immense power in a healthy life.”

Dietician, nutritionist and health coach Diane Casey discusses with Rotonda residents, the benefits of beans and lentils and eating for longevity.

All About Alligators

Wednesday 10/22/25, 2pm: Robert Pasquali, Charlotte County Lands Manager

Legal Status: The American alligator is classified by the US Fish and Wildlife Service as federally protected but allows state-approved management and control programs. In Florida Alligators can be legally taken only by individuals with proper permits.

Diet: Alligators are opportunistic feeders. Juvenile alligators eat primarily insects, amphibians, small fish, and other invertebrates. Adult alligators eat rough fish, snakes, turtles, small mammals, and birds.

Distribution: Alligators occur from Oklahoma and Texas to North Carolina and Florida. They prefer fresh water lakes and slow-moving rivers and their associated wetlands, but they also can be found in brackish water habitats.

Size: Female alligators rarely exceed 10 feet but males can grow up to 15 feet.

Reproduction: Alligators become sexually mature when they reach approximately 7 feet in length, which for a female is 10-15 years and a male 8-12 years. Courtship begins in April, and mating occurs in May or June. Females build a mound nest and deposit an average of 32 to 46 eggs in late June or early July. Incubation requires 63-68 days, and hatching occurs from mid-August through early September.

Survival: About 1/3 of alligator nests are destroyed by predators or flooding. The average clutch size is 38 and an estimated 24 live hatchlings will emerge. Only 10 alligator hatchlings will live to one year. Of these yearlings, 8 will become subadults (reach 4 feet in length). The number of subadults that reach maturity (6 feet in length) is approximately 5.

GARDEN TIP FOR OCTOBER

Article & Photos by: Ann Weaver
Master Gardener

Three Tricky Sennas for your Butterfly Garden

Want to have a band of yellow butterflies swirling through your garden? The cooler weather brings the Cloudless Sulphur, the Sleepy Orange and even the Little Yellow butterflies if you have a trio of their host plants, the sennas, to feed their caterpillars.

The Bahama senna (Senna Mexicana var. (chapmanii)) is a short-lived (3-5 years) native shrub that grows to 3-5 feet. Its feathery leaves are evergreen, and it does well in full sun or part shade. This is an excellent pollinator plant, and, in our area, it features yellow blooms all year. Part of the legume family, it produces seed pods, which turn brown. Harvest them to share with neighbors or let them grow where they fall. The Bahama senna attracts our solitary native bees and bumble bees as well as many butterflies.

A very similar native shrub is the Privet senna (Senna Ligustrina), also a host plant for those yellow butterflies. This long-lived perennial has a more pointed leaf than Bahama and can reach 8 feet high and 3-6 feet wide. Same buttery yellow flowers and seed pods. This is a “short-day” plant, requiring a longer period of dark to form its flowers, so it blooms from September to late spring. It will self-seed and tiny privets will appear in your yard.

What makes these two sennas tricky? A gland at the base of its leaves attracts ants that will feed on caterpillars, resulting in fewer butterflies. (source: Florida Wildflower Foundation, Florida Native Plant Society) Some caterpillars do escape the ants. In my yard, both sennas are grown for their appeal to nectar-loving butterflies and bees. To ensure the many yellow butterflies, I add one trickier senna.

The third tricky senna is Senna alata or Candlestick plant which is native to Mexico and the West Indies. (Some of the non-native sennas are considered invasive, but the alata is easily managed by removing the large seed pods). This is a fast-growing tree, 8 feet tall and wide. It thrives in full sun and likes well drained loamy soil. The enormous leaves are rounded. The heavy branches can break in a storm so aggressive pruning in winter is recommended and results in more blooming. The flowers look like bright yellow candlesticks and are present all year.

This senna is the key to having MANY yellow butterflies. Having all three sennas in my garden, I have seen that the butterflies are most often on the Senna alata laying their eggs. How do they know about the ants on the Bahama and Privet? This time of year, there are many caterpillars feasting on the alata. The plants are so large, the leaf damage is not noticeable. If the caterpillars eat the blossoms, they are yellow; if they eat the leaves, they are green. The Senna alata is well known for its medicinal uses in treating ringworm,

Protecting Rotonda West since 1981

You don't want to miss reading this.!!!

It is with a heavy heart that I am sharing a difficult experience that I hope will prevent others from falling victim to a similar crime. Over the past year, one of our residents was scammed out of over several million dollars in cash and gold. This wasn't a simple case of online fraud; it was a sophisticated, year-long con that preyed on their trust and fear. Scammers go to great lengths to create an illusion of authority and legitimacy, which is exactly what happened.

The scammers used what appeared to be legitimate FBI credentials, official-looking cars, delivery service (like Uber and Lyft) and secret code words to manipulate trust over time. They are professional criminals. This isn't a simple case of a "scammer," but a complex criminal enterprise that requires a coordinated response. They were so convincing that they made even our most experienced CCSO deputies question their own "scammer-detecting skills."

I'm sharing this as a critical warning. Please be vigilant. If a supposed government agent ever asks you for cash, gold, or gift cards, it is a scam. Legitimate law enforcement agencies will never demand money in this way. Don't be fooled by official-looking vehicles or credentials—these criminals are getting better and better at faking them. Report any perceived scam to CCSO at 941-639-2101.

My hope is that by sharing this story, we can save at least one other person from this of devastating loss. Don't let embarrassment or shame stop you from reporting this. By coming forward, you are providing crucial information that could help law enforcement stop them from targeting someone else.

If you are looking to volunteer as a Patrol or be a Base Station, it just takes two hours a month; a small commitment to protecting our neighborhoods. If you are interested in joining our organization, please contact David Perry at 941-828-1584 or by email president@rotondawestneighborhoodwatch.com
